Program News

Dear Alumni:

October was a busy month here at the UW-Madison Physical Therapy Program. First came the slew of student and faculty activities to promote National PT Month.

Then came the Program's Commission on Accreditation of Physical Therapy Education (CAPTE) site visit October 22-25. The outcome of this site visit: no deficiencies, weaknesses or inadequacies with respect to the program or its graduates! The on-site review team's summary of program strengths and competencies can be found on the following page.

Needless to say, we all enjoyed a big sigh of relief at the conclusion of 2000 and are mentally prepared to start off 2001 "hitting the ground running." But before we think about where we're going, I think it is important that we stop and reflect on how far we've come. The site visit outcome was undoubtedly the result of a solid infrastructure and curriculum, our stellar student body, a motivated (full!) faculty, a supportive home in the Department of Surgery in the Medical School, and an unconditionally loyal alumni, whose generosity has allowed us to continually improve the quality and delivery of PT education.

Greater than the joy we felt at the conclusion of the site visit, was the pleasure of being able to announce these results to those who supported us throughout our three years of preparation. As we look ahead, there continue to be many challenges (as opposed to obstacles!) and our long-term goals can now move into the forefront as we focus on student recruitment, faculty development, alternative clinical education models, and maintaining a keen awareness of the demand for entry-level DPT programs.

In the meantime, many of our recent graduates were offered jobs during their final clinical internships, a sign that market conditions have become more favorable for physical therapists. The upcoming spring semester is full of events such as PT Legislative Day, the Wisconsin State Student Conclave, the Combined Sections Meeting, the WPTA Spring Conference, the Program's Visiting Professor Lecture, and numerous student outreach and fundraiser activities. We are also busy organizing the WPTA Fall 2001 Conference, to be held here in Madison, and of course, the Program's 75th Anniversary All-Class Alumni Reunion, where we hope to see you!

Sincerely,

Getting physical, having fun

Students focus on correct posture and breathing control in the practice of Tai Chi.

Students celebrate the completion of videography project poster presentations.

ON-SITE REVIEW TEAM'S FINDINGS RELATED TO THE EVALUATIVE CRITERIA FOR ACCREDITATION OF EDUCATION PROGRAMS FOR THE PREPARATION OF PHYSICAL THERAPISTS

SUMMARY OF THE ON-SITE REVIEW TEAM'S FINDINGS

After a thorough review of the Self-study Report submitted by the program, review of the materials and information obtained during the site visit, opportunities to see the facilities and resources of the institution and program and interviews with program faculty, institutional and program administrative officials, faculty from other departments, clinical educators, employers, students, and graduates, the on-site review team finds:

1. The following to be the significant strengths of the program:

1. University of Wisconsin-Madison including institutional resources and support.
2. Administration of the Medical School including support, ability, and vision.
3. Department of Surgery financial and managerial support.
4. Program administrator's organizational and management skills.
5. Program faculty including their enthusiasm, team work collaboration, dedication to students, ongoing clinical work.
6. Clinical faculty who are competent, knowledgeable about the program, offer appropriate feedback and are supportive.
7. Students and graduates who exhibit professionalism, problem-solving abilities; excellent work ethics; willingness to take on responsibility, and pride in their program.
8. Curriculum that is well planned and integrated, offers cooperative learning opportunities and team teaching.
9. Support staff.

2. The following to be physical therapy competencies for which graduates of this program appear to be exceptionally well prepared:

Graduates appear competent in all aspects of entry-level physical therapy practice. Particularly strong areas include:

1. communication skills,
2. professional behavior and responsibility,
3. managing resources,
4. self-directed professional development plan,
5. patient examination and evaluation, and
6. educating others.

3. The following to be deficiencies, weaknesses or inadequacies of the program:

none

4. The following to be physical therapy competencies for which the preparation of the graduates of this program is deficient:

none

Student News

Going for the Gold

PT students participated in the annual Dean's Cup competition between the Medical School and the Law School. Jill Orzechoskie assisted the Medical School in its overall victory by winning the tennis tournament for the Medical School.

The Class of 2001 received recognition for their outstanding achievement in the APTA Campus Competition by reaching 95% membership!

Activities

Krista Bultman, Christine Vos, Mira Lau, Becky McConnell, and Beth Southard were selected to participate in the UW-Madison Waisman Center's pediatric intervention programs.

Students celebrated National PT Month with a city-wide Dusk Run/Walk/Wheel fundraiser, where they distributed PT Magazine's special issue on "For Your Health" to over 80 participants. Students also conducted their annual Bucky Book and clothing sale. Much of the proceeds went to the Miami Marquette Challenge.

Many students volunteered at or attended the WPTA Fall Conference in Stevens Point, WI.

Students expanded their massage fundraiser to cover both the Medical Sciences Center and UW Hospital and Clinics, where there were plenty of willing participants!

Scholarships & Honors

Maggie Dietrich, student intern, was awarded a scholarship from the Wisconsin Chapter of the American Association on Mental Retardation.

Marie Duginski, John Duncombe, and Heather Husby passed the Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS) exam. Nine other students are scheduled to take the exam when it is offered in Madison on February 10, 2001.

Volunteer Efforts

Students have continued to work regular volunteer hours at the CHAS (Community Housing and Services) House, where they provide home exercise programs.

Students ended the fall semester on a note of compassion by sponsoring a family in need for the holidays. They also organized a holiday party and a Boards party for the Class of 2000 before heading off to their winter clinical experiences.

Presentations

In honor of National PT Month, Judy Dewane gave a series of instructional courses for the Waisman Center at Goodwill Industries on basic transfer training, body mechanics, and home safety. Reenie Euhardy gave a presentation on balance to a geriatric residence facility. Jill Thein and Michele Thorman, WPTA Vice President, gave a presentation to Aurora Health Care on the Practice Act. Mark Erickson initiated a screening workshop for dancers on campus with three of the Program's students. Mark also works with School of Music personnel on injury prevention, and is collaborating with Beth Kille (1998), on outreach with the UW Marching Band. The faculty displayed banners throughout the medical school, set up a PT trivia game for students, and organized a bagel-fest with the students. They also participated in health fairs, many in conjunction with UW Hospital and Clinics.

Lisa Steinkamp taught the "Marketing, Medicolegal Issues, and Administration" course of the Rocky Mountain University DSc Sports Track in Utah.

Barb Morgan gave a presentation entitled "Sleep Apnea and Cardiovascular Sequelae" to the Autonomic Research Group at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center in Boston.

Bill Boissonnault has been on and off the road since July 2000, presenting physical therapy graduate courses on "Medical Screening for the Physical Therapist" at the University of Indianapolis and "Medical Screening and Foundations of Orthopaedic Physical Therapy Practice" at the University of Tennessee-Memphis. He also co-presented "Joint Manipulation: Physical Therapy Curricular Issues" at the Academic Administrators SIG meeting in Chicago and presented "Medical Screening for the Physical Therapist" seminars at Fort Wayne, IN and at the California Chapter's Spring Meeting. Bill presented "Clinical Decision-Making: Medical Screening and the Role of Diagnostic Imaging" with Dr. James Leonard at the University of Pittsburgh and "Pharmacologic Principles for the Physical Therapist" at the WPTA Southwest District Meeting.

Kristi Hallisy and Judy Dewane presented "Treatment of Balance and Gait Disorders in the Older Adult" at the Wisconsin Back Society Meeting and "Low Back Pain and Balance" at the New Concepts in Spine Care Conference.

Kristi Hallisy participated on an interdisciplinary health care team panel for a School of Nursing seminar. She also gave a half-day course on the "Lower Leg Ankle Knee and Foot" at the Monroe Clinic. In addition, Kristi presented "Treatment of Upper Extremity Musculoskeletal Dysfunction" at the WOTA conference.

Jill Thein was featured during a local NBC broadcast on scooter safety.

Service

Kristi Hallisy is the new chair and Barbara Morgan is the vice chair of the WPTA Southwest District. Jill Thein is chair of the WPTA PR Committee and Reenie Euhardy is a member of the Nominating Committee. Lisa Steinkamp will be co-coordinator of the WPTA Conference Committee until she is done chairing the local planning committee for the Fall 2001 Conference, at which time she will function as Conference Coordinator. John McCarthy is now serving on the NSCA Educational Committee as well as the NSCA Conference Committee. Bill Boissonnault was elected Wisconsin chapter delegate for the 2001 House of Delegates.

Bill Boissonnault and Kristi Hallisy have worked closely with the UW/Meriter Hospital Orthopaedic PT Clinical Residents, Jeff Hartman and Joe Tupta (1996). These two residents also participated in the Program's Current Issues in Rehabilitation Research course.

Julie Sherry received human subjects approval for her study, "The Effects of Transcutaneous Electrical Neuromuscular Stimulation on Skin Temperature in Healthy Subjects."

Sally (Sarah LaDuke) Burdick (1956): We are now Florida residents. Still working about 40 days a year at Waukesha Memorial Hospital.

Marzenda Stiles McComb (1957): I hope to be at the reunion. I visited Meryl Miles 3 years ago and hope to again. Also look forward to a visit with M. Kohli and Larson, too, if she is around.

Elizabeth (Liz) A. Seymour (1957): Retired from Central Center and having a ball.

Sharon (Mullen) Hollenberger (1958): I am interested in contacting my 1958 classmates. Can you help?

Mary (LaDuke) Gokey (1960): Still working! Doing Home Health at Beloit Memorial Hospital. Love it but looking forward to retirement.

Sally Middleton Sutkowski (1960): I am still practicing in an orthopedic outpatient setting.

Janet (Long) Tenhula (1964): Received MHS in 1987 from Washington University in St Louis, where I am on faculty; received OCS in 1989. In private practice specializing in Spine. Published research articles in Physical Therapy and Journal of Spine Disorders.

Suzann Campbell (BS 1965, MS 1968, PhD 1973): I am now Department Head of the PT Program at the University of Illinois at Chicago.

Roger J Weber (1970): Semi-retired, contract as self-employed; retired USAR as O-6. Participated in Desert Storm. Would like to hear from former classmates or fellow employees.

Peggy (Kearney) Reineking (1972): I am a physician for a special reimbursement program for Carefirst Blue Cross in Washington, DC, where I developed a medical rehabilitation network for them last year.

Cynthia (Lempke) Walker (1980): I currently work part-time for Bay Area Medical Center in Marinette, Wisconsin although I am contracted to the Menominee, Michigan School District working in pediatrics. Though I never worked in pediatrics before moving here 5 years ago, I feel my UW education prepared me very well in this area. I enjoy living in the UP!

Patty (Magidson) Magid-Volk (1986): Specialization in women's health—private practice with prenatal & postpartum women, Birthworks childbirth education & childbirth doula as well as home care PT.

Jenny Wallskog (1986): Starting back to school—beginning with Algebra at MATC!

Diane (Bremel) Bretl (1989): Recently obtained Board Certification in Geriatric Specialty; working part-time on Inpatient Rehab Unit; have 2 daughters; would love to see classmates at the reunion!

Christopher Jon Bizjak (1993): Daughter Claire Grace born 9/99 (wife Kimberley, also a UW grad, is an RN). Head Coach for Varsity Boys Soccer at East HS in addition to full-time outpatient ortho PT job at Marshfield Clinic. Certified Strength/Conditioning Specialist as of 8/00.

Julie (Daellenbach) Huber (1993): Following graduation, I worked at the Spine Clinic at Meriter hospital in Madison. Gary and I were married in 1994 and subsequently left Madison in 1995 and moved to San Diego where he attained a faculty position at UCSD. I eventually purchased a physical therapy practice. Mission Beach Water & Sports Physical Therapy operates out of a health club where I enjoy working with patients on multiple levels. I enjoy the comprehensive treatment that we are able to provide patients while incorporating manual, water, and land/aerobic strengthening and conditioning exercise as part of their rehabilitation programs.

Sunny San Diego is a great place to live—we don't have to bundle our two children up in snowmobile suits and rain ponchos everyday. We also enjoy playing in the surf on New Years Day!!—email us at mbwspt@aol.com!!

Amy (Gilbertson) Braun (1996): Working at Reedsburg Area Medical Center doing mostly outpatient ortho with a variety of all other types of therapy.

Jason Kaster (1996): Been in Louisville, KY for 4 years doing acute care, home health, and nursing home, but looking to come back to WI.

John D. Garbrecht (1997): Worked for Curative Rehabilitation in Milwaukee, WI for 1.5 years in a Community Health Center. Currently employed with the US Navy as a Physical Therapist at Camp Lejeune, NC, an active duty Marine base of approximately 40,000 personnel. I will finish a Masters in Business Administration from Boston University in May 2001 and began work towards a DPT degree from the University of Health Sciences in St. Augustine, FL. I keep busy working out and have started competing in marathons and half marathons with hopes of starting to compete in some local triathlon events.

Steven Pingel (1998): I currently work full-time as a PT in a private clinic in Sheboygan, WI, specializing in aquatic therapy and pediatrics.

Students spend 24 hours wheeling around for the "Day in a Wheelchair Experience." Pictured in the wheelchairs are Julie Lyne and Krista Bultmann. Annie-Lee Tirado and Stephanie Erickson-Brown are assisting.

Don't forget to send any changes in name, mailing or email address, phone or fax number to Pat Mecum, Program Secretary, 5185 MSC, 1300 University Ave., Madison, WI 53706!

All-Class Alumni Reunion October 26-27, 2001

Reunion Highlights

Friday afternoon — An informal open house and tour where you can get together with friends and classmates.

Friday evening — Homecoming activities such as the pep rally and parade, where you will see a PT Program float!

Saturday morning — Brunch at the Lakefront Café at Memorial Union. Here you will view a slide show and one of you will receive the Alumni Achievement Award (see below)!

Saturday afternoon — It's off to the Badger football game (more on tickets later) or time to engage in other activities of choice with old cronies.

What you can do now

- 1) Please check the list below to make sure you are included. This is the list we will use to send out more reunion information so if you are interested in attending and are not on this list, fill out the form on the page 6 of this newsletter and check the appropriate box ASAP! You can also check our web site at www.surgery.wisc.edu/pt periodically for updates.
- 2) Make hotel and dinner reservations early! As you can imagine, Homecoming weekend is packed with guests from out of town. We have blocked rooms for you at the following hotels:

Madison Concourse Hotel, 1 W. Dayton Ave., Madison, 53703. (608) 257-6000 or (800) 356-8293.
Howard Johnson, 525 W. Johnson St., Madison, 53703. (608) 251-5511 or hjplaza@inexpress.net.
